VBMcgi is a free multiplatform CGI library in C++ that isolates the work of webmaster and webdesign. It features: 100% free, and comes with original source code; Designed from step zero to be multiplatform (tested on Windows and Unix) - All features included (form decode, cookies, and a lot more); It is the only CGI library in C++ that completely isolates the webmaster and webdesign - In pratical terms, this means that you can use commercial html design software (that saves sophisticated html code) such as DreamWeaver, Front Page, etc.; and The CGI programs can be short and very powerful, because the complex code is inside the VBMcgi library.
